THE FIRE ENGINE

We all like to watch the fire engine go by. It's an exciting sight, with the siren screaming and the firemen hanging on for dear life and the dogs and the children tearing down the street after it.

But the sight at the end of its run may not be so stimulating. It may be a grass fire, easily put out with extinguishers. It may be some deserted shack which should have been torn down long ago. It may be minor damage to a building.

But, on the other hand, it may be a fire that puts the biggest employing concern in town on edge of business for months—or a fire that destroys a house that represents the savings and labor of years—or a fire that burns somebody to death.

Whatever kind of fire it is, great or small, costly or unimportant, it makes its contribution to our disgraceful record of fire waste. Maybe the damage to a building only runs into a few hundred dollars—a sum so small as to be hardly worth talking about. That was the little fire you saw. But, day after day, month after month, year after year, thousands of such fires occur. And that—when we add in the occasional conflagration that does damage running past the million mark—is why American carelessness with fire costs us well over half a billion a year.

The signal bell sounds in the station house and the red engine answers another call. Maybe it's fun to see it shriek by—but it's the kind of fun we pay for in lives and dollars and total destruction.

Civil Service Commission Announces Examinations

The U. S. Civil Service Commission, Atlanta, Ga., announces an examination will be held for the position of librarian. These positions pay $2,974 a year and are located in various federal agencies in the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina and Tennessee.

To qualify for these positions, applicants must pass a written test of general ability and in addition, they must have a certain experience or education in library work.

Veterans who qualify in this examination will be given preference as provided in the Veterans Preference Act of 1944. Any local person who may be interested may contact Mr. J. K. Wright, local Civil Service Secretary, at the local post office.

ELKS GROUP

 Civic Initiator "was one of the evening's features and judging by the favorable comment made by the Deputy and other visitors, the work must have been most commendable. The candidates on this occasion were Clyde Clayton and W. H. Thompson.

The Deputy was making his first presentation of the program set up by the Grand Exalted Ruler and the Elks Association of Florida for the present year certainly brought an impressive message, one that brought out high praise from the membership. Much praise was also given Arthur O'Hay for the clever and telling talk.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Got The Truth!

Like beer or ale, and of those who swear by nothing but cider. And from where I sit, once you've got both sides—and faced them truthfully, you realize that the difference of opinion are a prelude to what we call Democracy—the right of the individual to vote as he believes, to speak his mind, to claim his own heritage of moderation, whether beer or cider.

Milburn McLeod, of Leesburg, is to assist Rev. Bozeman in a series of revival services which began on last Sunday night. Moore Haven is the other congregation on the circuit, which is served by Rev.  rescue and got several of the farmers to try them out, and as a result those who made the try, were the only ones who saved their crops.

Carlisle is located in a rich agricultural sector of Pennsylvania, inhabited by Mennonites, who are conceded to be the most expert farmers, and each Wednesday and Saturday they have market days at the central square, and it is a wonderful sight to see the fine fruit, poultry, dairy goods, meats and other farm products that are offered the public.

Carlisle is also the seat of the former National Indian Training School, of which the famed athlete Jim Thorpe is a graduate. The city is located about 30 miles west of Harrisburg, and not too far a distance from historical Gettysburg. Carlisle is the farthest north in Yankeeland to be reached by the Rebels, and the court house still shows a cannon ball lodged in its wall, a grim souvenir of that war.

While a student at Western Reserve Medical College in Cleveland, the writer's son, now Capt. Joseph M. Gledhill, of Warren, O., was for two years a member of ROTC, and for two years was a trainee at the Carlisle Field, and there received his commission as a second

A CHECKING ACCOUNT
 intelligently used, makes you
A GOOD CREDIT RISK

A good credit reputation is one of life's greatest assets. You may not have had occasion to realize this yet, but inevitably you must. A checking account will help to establish you as a good risk wherever you want to pay something you are not quite ready to pay for. It encourages you to keep cash on reserve, to pay bills when due, to conduct your personal business in a business-like way. It helps to adjust your spending to your income — gives you a continuous record of your financial condition — assures you of being properly credited whenever you pay a bill. And of course it saves you the time and risk of carrying cash. The cost of a checking account is trifling at most — and with a moderate balance, its advantages can be yours "for free."
